Not many infants receive recording contracts from legendary producers on the day they were born. But exceptions are made when the child in question is the only daughter of George Jones and Tammy Wynette, Country Music's "First Couple" She has been singing with one or both parents since the age of three. Georgette recorded her first single with her Dad, "Daddy Come Home" when she was ten years old and performed it on an HBO special. Georgette also worked as a backup singer for her Mom and has appeared on The Grand Opry, Crooke & Chase, and RFD-TV.
